Mark Your Calendar. Plan Now To Attend This Focused Wall Street IT Conference.

High Performance Computing, Virtualization, Cloud, Low Latency, Linux, Grid, Blade, Cluster will all be there - at a live Show for Wall Street IT buyers.

You have to meet them to sell them.

The 2009 High Performance Computing on Wall Street is your opportunity to meet and sell, network and demonstrate your HPC systems at a live Show.

The 2008 High Performance Computing on Wall Street last year was the most successful in our history.

Wall Street IT directors came to the Show to find ways to lower computing costs, save energy costs, reduce heat and air conditioning costs, save space, save time and labor in set-up.

The Show and Conference received rave reviews in 2008:

"Great attendance and excellent Conference program to bring our buyers to the Show."

"A great one-day Show without the waste. It saves IT managers time because it focuses on technology they can use."

"Great speakers - having the managing director of Merrill Lynch, the executive director of Morgan Stanley, and other high level Wall Street innovators generated a quality attendance."

"High Performance Computing, Cloud Computing, Virtualization are all hot technologies to get the buyers to come see our solutions."

Exhibit space includes a complete package of services. Just bring your computers, your monitors and your enthusiasm. We'll do the rest.
